Prof. O. J. Others or my family and friends are using your Restorative with the lappiest effects; therefore, my happicism and doubt in reference to face character and value are entirely removed, and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recombined its use by sit whe would have their hair restored from white or gray (by reason of siokness or age) to original color and beauty, and oy all young persons who would have their hair resultful and glossy.

The Evansville Journal narrates an incident of sad reverse of fortune. One of the Green River packets recently put off, on a wharf-boat at that city, a poer afflicted man, over 80 years of age. He was blind from cancer in the eye, and one of his legs was paralyzed; and utterly destitute, helpices and apparently friendless, he lay upon the wharf-boat from Saturday avening until Sunday afternoon of last week, when Dr. Hallock prevailed on an old negro nurse to take him into her hut and provide what necessaries were in her power for him. The old man died on Thursday, and was buried by one of the charitable associations of the city. Among his effects were papers showing his name to be Dr. John Pocock Holmes, a member of the London College of Surgeons, together with a great number of letters from very distinguished men of soience in London and elsewhere, proving the deceased to have been one of the most eminent men of his profession. The sum of $250 was found on his person, which seems to be all the property he had. The Journal says he was evidently a man of correct habits and great intelligence.

and great intelligence.

Mr. Voorhees, Collector of Water Rents for the city of Cincinnati, who had by economy and industry, accumulated a property of $10,000, and who had sustaired an unblemished reputation, was recently found to be a defaulter as Cellector for a large amount. On investigation his surety learned that a few months ago be had been enticed into a gambling hell where he became so infatuated with the games of chance that he continued his visits and play till he lost every dollar of his own property, and several thousand dollars of the public funcs in his hands. His sureties on learning the facts went to the gambling touse armed with warrants, and accompanied by a police officer, and in a conference with the gamblers made them, under threats of prosecution, disgorge enough of the money lost by their victim to cover his public defaleation. Having accomplished this and made themselves secure for the amount of the bond, they sllowed the gamblers to escape, and destroyed the warrants they had sworn out against the cheats.

Mr. Tucker thought the true way would be to refer to the Committee on Salaries and Officers to have them investigate the matter. He thought there was no precedent for removing a Commissioner of Deeds from effice without cause.

Mr. Clancy said that it had been often done. The Common Council of 1853 had removed men to appoint others in their place.

LAYING UP OF THE LAKE BOATS.—A written contract was clored last week between the Michigan Central and Michigan Southern Railroads, by which the final leying up of their respective lines of boats was rendered certain. The Buffalo and Clevaland line is also laid up, as also the Sandusky of Mad River Rollroad line. These magnificent boats, comprising the Western World, Plymouth Rock, Mississippi, Southern Michigan, City of Buffalo, Western Astropolis, Queen of the West, Crescent City and St. Lawrence, which cost from $15,000 to $200,000 each, thus become a dead lors, and, aside from the value of the engines, which are of the highest class, will yield no return upon the immense outley rendered accessively by their construction.
